Profile

Mr. Albeck is an adviser at FBC. With 25 years of experience in a variety of high-profile and sensitive legal and managerial positions, he is recognized as one of Israel's key figures in the financial arena, with unique expertise in the fields of capital markets, M&A, regulation, insolvency & restructuring, anti-money laundering white collar crimes, and crisis management.

Prior to joining FBC, Mr. Albeck served as the Vice CEO of IDB Development (2011-2014). Prior thereto, he served as General Counsel to the Israel Securities Authority and as Chairman of the ISA's Anti-Money Laundering Sanctions Committee (2006-2011), and as Chief Counsel to the Israel Money Laundering Prohibition Authority (IMPA) (2002-2005), of which he was one of its four senior managers and founders.

Since 2003, Mr. Albeck has been teaching courses on white collar enforcement and corporate governance at leading Israeli universities, and is regularly called upon to speak about his areas of expertise before legal and business forums.
